ABOUT ME

Jonas Lerch is a filmmaker and video artist currently based in Vienna.

His work focuses on unveiling the subtle power structures that underpin social life through intimate tales of bodies and their relationships.

In his documentaries, he uses the camera as a tool to crystallize his own biases and those of the audience, providing a unique and introspective view into his subjects.

This approach does not allow the audience to be silent witnesses; instead, it forms constant and often uncomfortable relationships between the work and its viewers.
